GOVERNMENT'S OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO EXTEND VISIT

The government objects to allowing the defendants to stay until their mother passes and for two additional days. This request exceeds the spirit of Judge Gorton's original order which was not to "exceed four (4) days." Further, the medical letter attached to the defendant's original motion was dated December 6, 2007 and indicated that the mother had "days or weeks to live." The most recent letter indicates that she is "likely in the last few days of her life." The government notes this disparity only to highlight that it is very difficult to predict such an unfortunate event.
